

An Atlas of Impossible Longing

By Anuradha Roy

Quercus Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, An Atlas of Impossible Longing, Anuradha Roy, Beginning in 1907 with the founding of a factory in Songarh, a small provincial town where narrow attitudes prevail, the story is of three generations of an Indian family, brilliantly told, in which a sensitive and intelligent founding boy orphan who is casteless and without religion and Bakul, the motherless granddaughter of the house, grow up together. The boy, Mukunda, spends his time as a servant in the house or reading the books of Mrs Barnum, an Anglo-Englishwoman whose life was saved long ago by Bakul's grandmother, by now demented by loneliness. Mrs Barnum gives Mukunda the run of her house, but as he and Bakul grow, they become aware that their intense closeness is becoming something else, and Bakul's father is warned to separate them. He banishes Mukunda to a school in Calcutta. The many strands of this intensely fashioned narrative converge when Mukunda, by now a successful businessman, returns to Songarh years after he has been exiled from the only home he knew, to resolve the family's destiny.

Reviews

It is one of the most popular publications. It is actually written in easy words instead of confusing. You will like how the author created this book.

Extremely helpful to all categories of individuals. I have gone through it and I am confident that I will likely read it through once again later on. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
