Page Inscription: Next to being right in this world, the best of all things is to be clearly and definitely wrong, because you will come out somewhere. If you go buzzing about between right and wrong, vibrating and fluctuating, you come out nowhere; but if you are absolutely and thoroughly and persistently wrong, you must, some of these days, have the extreme good fortune of knocking your head against a fact, and that sets you all straight again. Huxley An excerpt from the PREFACE : This little book has no pretensions to being a treatise on hydrodynamics. It is, as its title implies, only intended as an introduction to the study of that subject. There is not very much that is new in it; some of the quotations are so old that they have been forgotten, and so will appear to the reader of the ordinary text-books as if they were new. What is, I fancy, original is the way in which the matter is arranged and the subject presented. Instead of treating of the movement of...
